

“Someone clever once said
 Women were not allowed pockets
 In case they carried leaflets
 To spread sedition
 Which means unrest
 To you and me
 A grandiose word
 For common sense
 Fairness
 Kindness
 Equality
 So ladies, start sewing
 Dangerous coats
 Made of pockets and sedition”

This will be a chance to make loud and colourful signs and symbols of resistance to gender inequality. Come down and get creative – let's make a clear statement on March 12th and #breakthebiasNo need to book: just drop in   |
|                     | International Women's Day Celebration11:00am – 3:00pm                                 | Location:The Barn Youth and Community Centre, 37 Abbotsford Place Glasgow G5 9QS                            | To keep everyone safe, we are inviting women to pop in for a wee chat, dance, some food and a little bit of pampering. You can also meet Angie Mwafuliwra, the author of an exciting new book "Uncovering the new you" that can inspire women. Angie is a Community Development Worker and Women's Rights Activist, who campaigns tirelessly to break the barriers that women face, particularly women of colour.No need to book: just drop in   |
|                     | "The Women of the Gorbals Heritage Walk"With Glasgow Women's Library4:00 – 6:00pm | Location:Starting on Gorbals Street, end of the bridge opposite the Sheriff Court, at the Clyde Walkway     | A heritage walk led by Glasgow Women's Library will bring together women from different generations living in Gorbals. With the walk, they will travel through time, learning about inspirational stories of women from various social and cultural backgrounds who lived, and created there in the historical past. The walk will help to shed new light on history and help women feel more connected to Gorbals by telling stories of women whose experiences and struggles may still be relevant to women today.Book at: bitlygtt.eventbrite.com |

Our use of the word women is inclusive of Trans and Intersex women, as well as non-binary people who are comfortable in a space that centres the experience of women.
